“Connecting theory to lived experience is essential. By building capacity and encouraging robust debate, we create environments where professionals grow into confident leaders.”

ABOUT RAVIN

Ravin Sanjith is an experienced leader with a strong background in digital customer experience and business-technology transformation. He is a Lecturer at Novia One Business School, where he is committed to delivering agile, disruptive, and innovative learning for a future-ready workforce.

With over 25 years of experience at the intersection of business, technology, and people, Ravin possesses extensive expertise across the consulting, corporate, and startup sectors. His professional journey includes leadership roles such as Africa Lead for Digital Customer at Deloitte Consulting, Program Director at Opus Research, and co-founding ventures like OneVault and Motoronline. Through these positions, he has successfully led large-scale, tech-enabled transformation programmes and developed deep knowledge of omnichannel customer engagement, AI-driven service design, and platform business models.

As a skilled Lecturer, Ravin leverages his entrepreneurial journey and corporate leadership to enrich his lecturing. His teaching methodology connects theory directly to lived experience, utilising case-based and project-based learning to mirror real-world business realities. Ravin is known for translating practical stories of innovation, risk management, and strategic partnerships into actionable insights. He is deeply committed to upskilling emerging talent, ensuring students leave with practical tools and the confidence to navigate complex, technology-driven environments.
